FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JoDog Safety Innovations Awarded Sierra Army Depot Contract

JoDog Safety Innovations (JSI) won a federal contract with Sierra Army Depot for outfitting their Law Enforcement Vehicles with the necessary safety lighting and communications equipment.

Reno, NV, January 20, 2011

JoDog Safety Innovations installed required vehicle emergency operating equipment, including light bars, sirens, 14" consoles, and radios, for new police vehicles at the Sierra Army Depot Herlong, CA, facility. The vehicles were year 2010 Chevrolet S1500 pickups, a 2010 Ford F-250 pickup, and a 2010 Ford Explorer.

The Sierra Army Depot was established in 1942 for storage of general military supplies. It now functions as an Expeditionary Logistics Center that provides a complete range of logistics support for military operations, including the receipt, storage, repair, shipping, maintenance, and fabrication of assets.

About JoDog Safety Innovations:
